

Welcome ...

... and thank you for having come to this side !!

Yes, the shop is a real joy, more than 100 visitors (each one stays 20 to 40 min) already came. They came from all the continents and all big religions. Even from the square next to here, which is the place of religious jews, some ultra orthodox jews came with wide open hearts and we had warm discussions about the heart and love (as they said: „ our scriptures describe the heart very often, but to work with the heart in concrete is not known to us...”)

Phew ... quite a lot of religions don` t seem to have it so easy to simply surrender to the heart. Yet the work from this locations brings to experience an interesting line around the earth in which the old structures are getting dissolved and the new is created. Take a look at the globe and observe an exact line: New York- London - Zurich- Venice- Delfi- Heraklion- Pyramids of Gizeh and Mecca. Gigantic streams of transformation are running through here. And each heart of the visitors of the shop, that opens, contributes to the movement in the line. Almost all the visitors that enter here, receive information about their base heart quality, a mini transformation of blockages. That is the free offer on my sign. I keep the sign that simple, so that each one can open to that. Free from Dogma and religion. Who expects a crowdfunding page here, should know, that I had to cancel it. The shop doesn` t pay for itself for now out of its own resources. Who still wants to support this project as a private mini crowdfunding, so that I can keep it open as long as possible, is really welcome. Thank you so much! Simply put: „ Donation without consideration“ as the title in your paypal transfer. This safes me a lot of tax. My paypal is: AndreasLohmann@web.de or ask for my IBAN number. Thank you so much. I hope that this shop can stay open as long as possible.

Om namah Shivay !!!

Life is an adventure!
Lots of love and heartfelt greetings
to all of you,
